New Music Teacher

In late December we wished Loredana Neuharth and her husband the best of luck as they moved across the state. We are now very excited to welcome our new music teacher Marcy Holston who will be starting early February. For thirty plus years, Marcy has been teaching private piano, drums and guitar lessons, and has spent ten years teaching music at Smith Valley School. She is already a familiar face around our school since she has taught a year of band here as well as her continued weekly private lessons for our students. Marcy has played in the Don Lawrence orchestra, Glacier Symphony, Just Us Girls and Cocinando. We are thrilled to have such a wonderful musician and teacher join our staff.
